Circle Meets Monday

Circle No. 3 of the Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church will meet Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. R. L. Telford on the campus.

Beautiful Recital

One of the most enjoyed of the many musical events of the commencement season were the recitals given Thursday and Friday evenings by the violin and piano pupils of Miss Issie Milford. The rooms were beautifully decorated with quantities of spring flowers and the children were fairy like in their varicolored frocks. The programs were very excellently arranged and her pupils gave their selections with great credit to their efficient teacher and most satisfactorily to the patrons who are deeply indebted to Miss Milford for the delightful entertainment.

Back—Hume

Miss Mary Back and Mr. Carl Hume were married in Stanford this week at the home of the officiating minister, Dr. Madison A. Hart. Immediately after the ceremony they left for a bridal trip to Mammoth Cave and Louisville. The bride is a sister of Mrs. Ben Jennings, who taught one of the grades in Caldwell school the past year.

Newby—Dearinger.

Friends of two popular young people were given a pleasant surprise by receipt of a telegram from Lexington Saturday afternoon announcing the marriage of Miss Lula Newby and Mr. John Dearinger, of this city. They took but very few into their confidence, and slipped away quietly and had the nuptial knot tied. The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coy Newby, of East Walnut street. She has been assistant at the Western Union office for some time and is a splendid young lady in every way, and popular with all who know her. The groom is a fine young man in every sense, connected with the express office at the depot, and highly respected. Many friends will wish them every happiness. They are expected back Monday.

Mrs. Mary Neale Thompson, who has been with her son, Mr. Howard Neale Thompson, in San Antonio, Texas, will arrive tonight, having been called here by the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Howard Neale, whose condition remains unchanged.

Mrs. Jonah Wagers and brother, Rev. T. P. Dudley, spent Saturday in Lexington.

Mrs. Margaret Boggs and Mrs. John Donelson are spending a few weeks at Mallory Springs. Miss Grace Alexander, of the Eastern Normal, is in Mt. Sterling for a week end visit to friends.

Miss Mollie Powell has returned from a visit to Mrs. S. C. Reid in Midway.

Mr. William Minter is at home from K. M. I. and is the guest of David Munday on West Main street.

Mrs. L. H. Barter, of Bristol, Tennessee, has arrived for a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Murison Dunn.

Mr. Coleman Oldham, who has been attending Vanderbilt University, is expected home the latter part of next week.

Mrs. Carlisle Myers and children have returned to their home at Hazard after a visit to Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Cosby.

Mrs. Harry Hanger has returned from a visit to her aunt, Miss Florence Shelby, in Danville.

Miss Mazzy Q. Covington, who has been teaching in Paducah, will be at home the first of the week to spend the vacation.

Mr. Richard M. Ross spent Friday in Berea.

Mrs. Ashby Carter spent Thursday in Lawrenceburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis W. Taylor and Miss Benlah Dorcas Shifflett were recent visitors in Berea.

Miss Benlah Cotton, of Lexington, is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. S. H. Ross.

The Jackson Times says Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Blanton have returned from their wedding trip and Mrs. Blanton will spend a few days with her parents at that place before going to house-keeping at Hazard.

Friends here will be interested to know that Miss Mary Neal, who was for several terms a very popular student at the Normal, is now holding the position as superintendent of schools in Robertson county.

Mrs. Cecil, of Richmond, Virginia, Mrs. W. H. Wooten and Miss Mary Bell Field Miller, of Winchester, were the recent guests of Mrs. Robert Miller on Lancaster avenue.

Mrs. Russell Dykes was called to Winchester by the illness of her mother, Mrs. Albert Tanner.

Miss Lucy Williams has returned from a visit to friends at Wilmore. While there she heard Bryan deliver his lecture on Evolution.

Announcement is made of the arrival of a little daughter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hays Bronaugh in Crab Orchard. Mrs. Bronaugh is a sister of Mrs. S. W. Fife, of this city.

The Winchester Sun says Miss Catherine Scrivner is the guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Kate Scrivner, on Hickman street.

Dr. W. O. Sadler, Mr. R. R. Wells and family and Rev. J. A. McClintock motored to Wilmore the middle of the week to hear Bryan's lecture on Evolution.

Miss Ellen Walker and Miss Taska Dunn are at home from Sharpshurg to spend the vacation.

Miss Bettie McCann Perry was in Stanford for the dance Tuesday night the guest of Miss Lysie Cooper.

RULE ON LOCATION OF RURAL MAIL BOXES

(By Associated Press)

Louisville, Ky., June 3 — The question of location of mail boxes along the highways of the state is the subject of a communication to the offices in Kentucky where co-operation between the government and the state highway department is sought as a means of preventing accidents and reducing traffic interference.

Postoffice officials have been directed to instruct persons maintaining mail boxes along improved highway, according to ruling along the outer shoulder of the highway rather than at the edge of the crown of the hard surfaced highway, according to a ruling sent out by the Federal department.

The ruling as sent out explains the situation as follows:

It has been brought to the attention of the department that it is the practice of some postmasters and rural carriers to insist that the boxes of rural patrons shall be erected near the edge of the crown of the hard surfaced roads.

It is the experience that boxes so located are an obstruction and dangerous to traffic and seriously interfere with the operation of machines used in the maintenance of roads of this character.

It is deemed essential that there be co-operation between representatives of this department and the authorities charged with the upkeep of the roads and it is directed that postmasters shall, when requested by the state highway engineers or other competent authority require rural patrons to erect their boxes on the outer edge of the shoulder line of hard surfaced roads, and in such position at the edge of other roads that they shall not be an obstruction or menace to traffic, while at the same time being accessible to the carriers without the need of their leaving their conveyances.

While it is not a requirement, the department also suggests that the posts of mail boxes along roads over which there is heavy traffic be painted white to increase their visibility at night.
